

BORO BALANCE FOR 1942 WAS $14,304

Auditors' Report Shows Expenditures and Receipts

The 1942 report of Narberth Borough's three auditors shows that the Borough finished the business of last year with a cash balance of $14,304.73.

Editor's Note. A summary of the 1942 auditor's report is published as legal advertising in this issue of "Our Town."

The Borough auditors are F. R. Gifford, J. A. Mower, Jr., and E. D. Hackman.

Largest item in receipts was from taxes which brought in $88,756.29, which also included receipts from penalties and fines.

Licenses and permits issued amounted to $1,298 for the Borough. A new item listed in receipts this year was $153.92 as "grants and gifts," which constituted the money received from donations to the defense fund.

The four major expenditure items were as follows:

For administration, $11,250; police protection, $14,849; fire protection, $15,301, and highways, $11,264.

Auditors also include a report on the various sinking funds of the Borough and the outstanding indebtedness.

A report on the Community Library shows that it concluded 1942 with a cash balance of $435 and the Narberth Fire Company with a balance of $7,251.

MUST DESTROY JAPS TO END THE WAR

Rotary Speaker spent Six Years in Japan Before the War

The military of Japan must be completely destroyed before the war can end, Roger Burman told members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

Burman, a member of the Philadelphia Rotary Club, is associated with the National Cash Register Company, and was stationed in Japan for six years. On December 7, 1941, he was in Honolulu, only a few miles from Pearl Harbor.

He and his neighbors believed the bombing of Pearl Harbor to be United States maneuvers for some time after it started.

Burman painted a vivid word picture for the Rotarians of the preparations which the Japanese made for this war. They reduced the entire population to the same economic level, so that everyone shared equally in the cost of the war. Goods were constantly shipped out which those in Japan believed were destined for the China front but which actually, he said, were stored on island stations in preparation for war with the United States.

For months before the war started, Burman reported, he and all other aliens in Japan were shadowed by Japanese agents. Japan is a vital target for bombing, said the speaker. In Tokyo and Yokohama, there are hundreds of tiny alleyways, where residences have been converted into small factories employing from five to ten men engaged in manufacturing small parts for planes, weapons or munitions. These tiny factories feed into the larger factories, so that the war industries are thoroughly decentralized and only equally thorough bombing will put them out of commission.

Burman was introduced by Dr. Munro Purse.

TEA AND PROGRAM CLOSING CLUB YEAR

Officers to be Installed at May Meeting of Narberth Club

The final meeting of the club year will be held on May 11 by the Women's Community Club of Narberth at the Narberth Presbyterian Church, starting at 2 P. M.

A reception for new members and installation of the new officers are scheduled.

At 3 P. M., Miss Margaret Harshaw will give a concert, which is open to everyone in the community. Miss Harshaw is the daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Harshaw, 25 Narberth Park, Narberth, and is a graduate of Lower Merion High School.

In 1935, she won the State Music Club Federation prize and later won a scholarship to the Juillard School of Music in New York City. This scholarship was left by a man interested in furthering Wagnerian music in America, and this has been Miss Harshaw's principal interest.

After winning the Metropolitan addition of the air, Miss Harshaw appeared last season with the Metropolitan Opera Company. She now lives in Englewood, N. J., with her husband, Oscar L. Eichna and their nine-months old daughter, Margaret Maryann.

Following Miss Harshaw's concert, tea will be served.

Mrs. L. G. Crater, retiring president of the club, entertained the chairmen, members of the board, officers and new members at a desert bridge on Tuesday and on Wednesday, Mrs. H. A. Jacobs entertained the members of the conservation committee.

10 COMMUNITIES IN '43 SAFETY CONTEST

Accident Prevention Conference Moves to Protect Pedestrians

The Co-ordinating Committee of the Montgomery County Accident Prevention Conference is co-operating with the American Automobile Association in sponsoring the National Pedestrian Protection Contest in Montgomery County. It has been announced by Arthur McDonald, Norristown, vice chairman of the committee.

Invitations are being extended to 10 of the larger municipalities of the county to participate in this contest.

The Co-ordinating Committee pointed out that "if there ever was a time when communities should interest themselves in pedestrian protection, it is this year, because a surprising number of key war workers and soldiers are being killed or injured in pedestrian traffic accidents."

During the first four months of this year, eight out of a total of 12 fatal traffic accident victims in Montgomery County have been pedestrians, or 67 per cent.

The communities which are being asked to participate in the Pedestrian Protection Contest are Lower Merion, Narberth, Norristown, Bridgeport, Lansdale, Jenkintown, Abington, Cheltenham, Upper Merion and Conshohocken.

FOUR ASSESSMENTS REDUCED BY $5500

Appeals Made by Business Council and Merchants

Appeals filed by the Narberth Business Council with four individual merchants resulted in assessment reductions of $5500, the Council's solicitor announced this week.

Although in each of the four cases assessments were raised the Montgomery County Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes were from the original assessment figures turned in by the local assessor.

The appeals were filed by John Flynn, representing both the merchants and the business council. Unless appeals had been filed there would have been no reductions.

Assessment reductions were granted as follows:

The assessed value of Max's Market was originally $8000 and it was raised to $9000. Assessment was fixed by the County Board at $8500.

The assessed value of the White property was originally $11,000 and it was raised to $12,000. Assessment was fixed by the Board at $10,500.

The assessed value of the Davis property was originally $9000 and it was raised to $12,000. Assessment was fixed by the Board at $10,000.

The assessed value of the Ricklin property was originally $10,000 and it was raised to $12,500. The assessment was fixed at $12,000.

CITIZENS HONOR STATE CHAMPIONS

Elwood Geiges Guest Speaker at Dinner for L. M. Team

By DAVID MALICKSON

A testimonial to the 1943 State Championship Basketball team of Lower Merion High School was held on Saturday night at the Bala-Cynwyd and Ardmore Junior High Schools.

The team and the coaches were guests of honor at a dinner at Bala-Cynwyd Junior High, prepared by that school's home economics department. Later they were escorted to the Ardmore Junior High School for a program of awards.

The program opened with music by the Senior High School band, directed by Dr. Bruce Beach, and the singing of "America" by the audience. Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Dubois greeted the guests and introduced E. E. Burlingame, president of the Lower Merion School Board, who acted as chairman of the evening.

Tom Moorehead, director of Red Cross Athletics and an announcer for Radio Station WFIL, presented Red Cross awards to the individual members of the team—Greer C. Heindel, captain; Donald W. Evans, Richard A. Whiting, Philip Harman, Vernon V. Young, Henry S. Beiber, Arthur A. Campbell, Donald H. Palmer, Philip D. Hawkins, John W. Peacock, John F. Derham, George M. Powell, Ralph W. Vigners and Joseph H. Dugan, manager.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK AT CHURCH

Secretary of the Christian Medical Council

Dr. Lerrigo, secretary of the Christian Medical Council for Overseas Work, will speak at the 11 A. M. service on Sunday, at the Baptist Church of the Evangel.

Dr. Lerrigo has the unusual record of having been a home missionary, a foreign missionary and for many years one of the Executive Secretaries of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society.

At the age of 15 he decided to become a medical missionary, and later took a course in medicine in New York. After his hospital training was completed, he spent two years as medical missionary on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska, where he also served as postmaster, under the U. S. Government.

Accepted by the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society for service overseas, Dr. and Mrs. Lerrigo were sent to the Philippine Islands in 1902. Dr. Lerrigo established the first hospital at Capiz. He returned in 1913 to serve as District Secretary of New England and later as Executive Secretary of the Five-Year Program, a progressive Baptist movement launched in 1916. From 1921 to 1940 he served as Home Secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society and Foreign Secretary of the Belgian Congo Mission. He was also the Medical Service Director of the Foreign Society.

Use of Party-line Phones Has Increased Since War Started

War has increased the number of Pennsylvania families using party-line Bell telephone service by approximately 100,000 since Pearl Harbor, according to Herbert J. Bruder, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company.

Greatly increased use of party-lines has made it possible to meet the increased demands for war-time service with a minimum of critical materials, he said.

Nearly 75 per cent of all residential telephone service in the State is now provided by party-lines, Mr. Bruder said. On the basis of the average size family, this means that approximately 2,700,000 Pennsylvanians are now sharing their home telephone facilities with others.

The Bell official pointed out three important rules of telephone etiquette which should be particularly stressed during war time: Be brief; be a good "telephone neighbor"; and do not make needless calls.

$5,000,000 Autocar Purchase Boosts Windup Total For War Loan Drive

Salvation Army Gets $4584 from Autocar

A contribution of $1534 was received this week from the employees of the Autocar Company by Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson, chairman of the Main Line Division of the Salvation Army 1943 Maintenance Fund campaign.

The contribution was presented by William A. Somers, 3rd.

In addition, Mrs. Patterson recently received a check for $3050 from the Autocar Company, the corporation gift approximately doubling the donation by employees.

A campaign luncheon was held on Wednesday at the Red Shield Club, 703 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, when reports on the drive were presented.

Ardmore Attorney Seeks G. O. P. Nod for D. A.'s Post

H. Lester Haws, Lower Merion Township attorney, who practices in Montgomery County, would like to be a Republican candidate for the D. A.'s office this year.

Haws, who has always nursed a secret desire to hold the position, has already discussed the possibilities with prominent organization leaders both on the Main Line and in the County. With an office on Rittenhouse Place in Ardmore he has developed one of the largest local practices in the Township.

Two Main Line men already hold prominent county positions and, it is rumored, they may both seek reelection. They are Fred C. Peters, president of the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners, and Dr. Frank P. K. Barker, controller, who is also president of the Lower Merion Board of Commissioners.

Dr. Daniel A. Polling, who has just returned from the American fighting front in Africa, will speak on Mothers' Day, 4 P. M., Sunday, at the Bala-Cynwyd Methodist Church, Levering Mill Rd., Bala-Cynwyd.

He will give an eye-witness account of the fighting, religious fervor with which our men are driving the Axis foe back.

Dr. Polling says that no American army ever knew the score more clearly than our fighting men know it today.

Dr. Franklin Duncombe, minister of the Bala-Cynwyd Church, has invited the members of all civic and patriotic groups to attend the services.

Narberth Expects Battle in Electing Two Magistrates

Despite war-time conditions there are Spring signs that Narberth will experience a sharp and fiery contest over the nomination and election of two Borough magistrates this Fall.

The two magistrates that now hold office are planning to run again and, in addition, Fred Walzer has indicated he would be a candidate for re-election.

Those in office now are Otto Duer and Louis Jenkins. Duer was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Roy Gowland, who wanted to devote more time to his real estate business. Jenkins replaced Horace Smedley, who accepted a superintendent's position at Bryn Mawr College. They both have to stand for re-election.

Walzer, a former protégé of Fletcher Stites, who died in the post-depression years, is an Independent. When Governor Earle (Continued on page 4)

Chairman Henry M. Harman of the Ardmore and Narberth War Price and Rationing Board yesterday announced the appointment as members of the Board, of Mrs. S. E. Downs, 115 Linwood Avenue, Ardmore, and William P. Landis, 102 Ardmore Avenue, Ardmore.

Mrs. Downs and Landis will be members of the newly-created price panel. They will have under their supervision a group of trained volunteer assistants who receive, investigate, and adjust complaints from consumers as to excess of prices being charged.

They will also conduct an educational campaign among retailers so regulations under which they must operate. This group will not in any sense be an enforcement agency, but is created solely to assist retailers and the public in complying with the regulations which are designed to prevent inflation.

RED CROSS STARTS NEW WAR SERVICE

Camp and Hospital Committee Organized This Week

The Red Cross undertook another job this week for the servicemen.

Along with its prisoners of war packing service, Blood Donor department and recreational program on battle fronts, the Main Line Branch has added the Camp and Hospital Committee.

This Committee will serve under the Southeastern Pennsylvania Camp and Hospital Council, headed by Miss Margaret Logan of Chestnut Hill.

Also serving on the Council are Mrs. Joseph F. Kerbaugh, chairman of production of the Main Line Branch who will serve in that capacity on the Council, and Miss Anne Townsend, Junior Red Cross head, who heads the entertainment committee of the Council.

The Main Line Branch Camp and Hospital Committee will work with service and civic groups and other Main Line organizations to help in the furnishing of sun rooms, billiard, recreation and reading rooms at the hospital. Chairs, tables, small radios, pool and ping pong tables are needed by the hospital to outfit the rooms. Soft balls, badminton sets, croquet sets, deck chairs, subscriptions to daily newspapers of all large cities, subscriptions to magazines, musical instruments and popular dance records are also needed.

All donations should be made through the Camp and Hospital Committee of the Main Line Branch.

The Red Cross has arranged to equip 29 of the 55 sun rooms in the Valley Forge General Hospital, 84 porches and three recreation rooms.

The total was boosted chiefly as a result of a $5,000,000 purchase by the Autocar Company of Tax Anticipation Notes, one of the types of investment offered by the Government during the campaign.

Individual subscriptions of war bonds also jumped by $516,000 in the final days of the drive, bringing the total amount subscribed by individuals to $2,576,675.

Although banks of the Lower Merion-Narberth district subscribed for $3,000,000, their allotment is expected to be cut to approximately $1,000,000 and this sum is all that is being actually counted by McConnell's Committee.

The final figures for the four areas of the Lower Merion-Narberth district, exclusive of banks, are as follows:

Ardmore (including Wynnewood, Haverford, Gladwynne and Penn Wynne), James L. Gardiner, area chairman—$6,422,650. (This includes the Autocar Company subscription.)

Bryn Mawr (including Rosemont and Villanova), DeHaven Develin, area chairman—$367,100.

Merion (includes Bala-Cynwyd), Clarence E. Hall, area chairman—$491,200.

Narberth, Carl E. Metzger, Jr., area chairman—$145,725.

The total for the four areas of the district amounts to $7,576,675. Adding the anticipated allotment to banks of $1,000,000, gives a grand total for the Lower Merion-Narberth district of $8,576,675.

Chairman McConnell again expressed his gratification at the results obtained and extended his thanks to all workers and chairmen who participated in the campaign.

NOTICES BEING SENT ON UNPAID TAXES

Will Enable Residents To Spot Any Discrepancies

County Commissioners Fred C. Peters, Foster C. Hillekass and Raymond K. Mensch, are planning to send statements to all taxpayers of the County whose properties have been listed for unpaid real estate taxes for 1942, it was announced this week.

These statements will indicate the total amount of delinquent real estate taxes owed the township or borough, school district and county.

The procedure is a continuation of the plan originated and begun last year by the County Commissioners as a service to the tax payers.

Last Monday was the final day for tax collectors of the 62 political subdivisions of the County to file liens with the County Commissioners on properties where taxes remained unpaid. If such taxes are not paid within the legal period, the County Treasurer is required to dispose of the properties at public sale. At a recent such sale, the Treasurer sold approximately 500 lots, most of them to the County since there were but few bidders. The number of properties disposed of at this sale was considerably smaller than at the previous Treasurer's sale, indicating that more properties are being reclaimed through payment of back taxes.

This statement enables taxpayers to check the amount of delinquent taxes with their own records, spot any discrepancies or errors and take up the matter with the proper authorities instead of waiting for the information to be disclosed through the legal notices incident to the County Treasurer's sale.

MOTHERS DAY, 1943

This year Mothers Day will be the most sacred observance of any Mothers Day since the idea was first founded.

This Mothers Day, all will especially honor the mothers of those boys who are in the service. They will receive a special honor, for the mothers of most of our boys were the glamor girls of 1918, who believed like all of us, the sons of mothers' boys in 1918 had fought a war to end war. These short-skirted mothers, raised their babies, and like any mother made untold sacrifices to give them health and education. They carried their homes through the depression or if they lost them, with heroic courage they found another shelter. Most of the years since 1918 were hard but they stuck to their duty and put men and women into the world. Then Pearl Harbor came. All their dreams were gone, silently and sweetly they saw their babies go on to the worst conflict America has ever had. Some have already paid the supreme sacrifice, some are wounded, still others wait for the call with the loving and courageous heart of a mother behind them. So to you mothers on the Mothers Day of 1943, all of America salutes you for your courage and heroic sacrifice.

REPLACEMENTS OF LOST GAS COUPONS AND RATION BOOKS

Take good care of your gasoline ration coupons—but if you do lose yours, or if they are stolen or destroyed, here's the amended procedure recently announced by OPA:

Where application is made for replacement of lost or stolen gasoline coupon books or bulk coupons, the board shall waive the 10-day or 60-day waiting periods where such requirement would result in extreme hardship upon the individual, impede essential transportation or be contrary to public interest.

Where application for replacement is made to a board other than the board which originally issued the coupon book or bulk coupons which are to be replaced, an additional copy of the application shall be made, to be forwarded to that board.

In order to make procedure covering the issuing of new ration books uniform, the Philadelphia Office of Price Administration has announced that it is no longer necessary to advertise lost books before applying to local boards for new ones.

Persons who have lost their ration books must make out application in duplicate to their ration board, one to serve for the Board's records, the other to be turned over to the OPA enforcement division for investigation.

ENGINEERING DEFENSE TRAINING COURSES AT HAVERFORD

Free evening courses for men and women in Strength of Materials, in Radio and in Industrial Organic Chemistry will shortly be offered at Haverford College. These courses in Engineering Defense Training are sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education and are designed to prepare qualified High School graduates for specialized positions in war industries.

The classes will meet two or three evenings a week and continue for 12 to 15 weeks. The courses are designed to prepare men and women for employment in war industries as laboratory assistants, at technical aids in research, testing and drafting, and for further training in scientific work.

Students must be high school graduates, with two years of mathematics or have had equivalent training.

Tuition is free but students will be required to purchase their own text-books. A personal interview will be required of all registrants.

For further information address Professor L. H. Rittenhouse, Haverford College, Haverford, or telephone Ardmore 1670.

Successful Parenthood

It isn't unusual these days to hear children discussing problems which once would have been considered way over their heads. Sometimes, it is true, what they have to contribute doesn't add a great deal to the sum of thought on the subject. But that isn't so important as the fact that they are interested to discuss with wholehearted zest, subjects which we, as children, would have considered heavy assignments. For instance, on a recent Saturday morning, a panel of children took over the New York Times had to discuss "What kind of a world do we want after the war?" Now that is a question children's answers to which are of vital interest—for they will live in and manage that world.

First, as to the children's stand on the part our country should play in the post-war world, there was only one isolationist in the lot. The others snored him under with well thought-out reasons for assuming our share of responsibility for world co-operation and the outlawing of aggression. One of the girls summed it all up when she said, "We have to learn to live together because we can't get off the globe."

Another girl said she wanted a world in which all nations could be like a happy family—which may be world relations and family life but certainly speaks pleasant volumes for the child's own home background!

A lovely looking Chinese girl, so tiny she could scarcely see over the table around which the panel gathered, sounded a warning against allowing war to destroy the art and beauty of the world. All the children immediately shared her concern and showed both knowledge and appreciation of China's great and ancient culture. How different from the picture we were given in school of China as a heathen country!

Yes, in spite of today's ghastly enmities we are making some progress in our teaching of racial and national tolerance. For we now put the emphasis on true understanding, that is, on trying to see other peoples as they appear to themselves. We used to emphasize how noble and broadminded it was to be tolerant, which resulted in a lot of earnest folks believing in tolerance on principle, yet lacking understanding or appreciation of the real worth of those toward whom they were being intellectually generous.

Another advance in teaching is that nowadays children learn in school how alike all human beings are while we were drilled in the differences among peoples. Dr. Irwin Edman in his book "Professor's Holiday," has a delightful chapter on a discovery he made in Syria of how college sophomores are the same the world over—they have the same problems, the same doubts and ask identical questions of their professors!

But there was one thing that almost frightened me about the good will these boys and girls expressed at the New York Times Forum. For I was reminded of how most young people felt during the last war, how ready they were to help fashion a new and better world. The older generation denied them their chance. Do we dare let that happen again?

On April 30 the students of L. M. had the rare pleasure of hearing from one of L. M.'s own "aces," Major Richard Beck, of the United States Air Force, who has just returned from the Far East. Major Beck told of the "hair-raising" experiences he and his crew had during their trips to such places as Australia, Java and Solomon Islands. This is one incident which took place while his ship was combating a squadron of Jap zeros. One of his gunners had just shot down a zero and was telling his buddy beside him the good news when a Jap bullet knocked a tooth out of the speaker's mouth.

The Soph Hop, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, was held in the Down's Gymnasium May 1. Two hundred students danced to the music of Chick Forrest and his band from 9 till 12. THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. S. (NWNs)—Following its spring recess, the House of Representatives hopes now to get the highly controversial question of taxes settled within the next few days. Bitter fights on the floor are expected before a bill is enacted, since the Democrats and Republicans are still at loggerheads over the "forgiveness" of taxes on 1942 income, but they are closer together than they were and all members realize that the tax question has been delayed too long already and must be passed up to the Senate as quick as possible.

What ever plan the House agrees on will probably be changed by the Senate unless it turns out to be a plan which the public favors. The Democrats, who were opposed to any forgiveness of 1942 taxes and were cool to a pay-as-you-go plan for this year, have now partially agreed to both plans but they have been influenced primarily by the possibilities of this plan for increasing government income rather than by the basic merits of putting taxation on a cash basis.

The plan approved by the Ways and Means Committee calls for a 20 per cent withholding tax (deduction from salaries and wages) beginning July 1, plus the cancellation of approximately half of 1942 tax indebtedness. Under its plan the Government would collect from three to five billion more during 1943 than it would under the present tax program.

The Republicans will probably continue to fight for the Ruml plan, which would forgive all of 1942 tax payment of whatever taxes are essential out of 1943 income. The President has said that tax income this year must be $16,000,000,000 greater than last. The committee plan would not make this possible, but might be supplemented by a sales tax or some other form of taxation to make up the difference.

Congress' chief interest this week, outside of the tax problem, is the growing restlessness of labor, the increasing number of strikes and the defiance of government authority by John L. Lewis and other union leaders. Although the President can order the army to intervene whenever labor conditions get out of hand, it is apparent that this offers no permanent solution. It is also apparent that if any labor group, which has had its wages adjusted according to the "Little Steel formula," is given another increase, unions in all fields will demand similar increases and farmers will demand higher prices.

The President's "hold the line" order would indicate that he does not intend to permit new increases, but he may be forced to use army persuasion to keep mines and factories working at full speed. Congressmen are aroused by the many letters they are receiving indicating that the public pictures the labor fight as a battle between John L. Lewis and the United States Government.

There is, however, some public support of Mr. Lewis' contention that miners should be paid from the time they enter a mine to the time they leave, rather than just for the hours spent in actual mining. But the operators contend that the miners are now on a 35-hour week instead of 40 in order to take care of the time involved in getting to their work. They are paid time and a half after 35 hours and most of them are now working over 40 hours.

Since miners are now ranked fifth in average hourly earnings in the 22 leading industries of the United States, it is clear that if they are given an increase, workers in other leading industries would feel that they too were entitled to more money. What happens on the mine question, therefore, will determine the Government's labor stand for some time to come.

Measles Account for Most Disease Cases

During the week ending April 30, 156 cases of contagious disease were reported in Lower Merion Township, with measles holding the lead, as usual.

Seventy-seven cases of regular measles were reported and 59 cases of erian measles; also six cases of chickenpox, seven mumps, two pneumonia, one scarlet fever and four whooping cough.

1019 GARDENS ARE UNDER SUPERVISION

Eighteen Large Tracts Are Divided Into Plots

In reporting to the Council of Defense of Lower Merion Township on the work of the Victory Gardens Committee, Mrs. Owen J. Toland, chairman, advised that there are now 1019 Victory Gardens under supervision of the committee, in Lower Merion Township. This does not include the many hundreds of private gardens whose owners have sought advice and help from the Victory Gardens Committee.

There are 18 large tracts scattered throughout the Township, each laid out with from 50 to 100 individual gardens. The Victory Garden Committee, with the cooperation of the Lower Merion Highway Department made maps of the plots obtained for the gardens, and assigned the individual plots. The plowing and harrowing of these large tracts was accomplished by the Victory Gardens Committee, with the major responsibility falling to John C. Kenealy.

From the widespread interest in Victory gardening in this area, it is evident that residents intend to conserve as much food as possible by producing their own supply of vegetables.

NARBERTH SCHOOL NEWS

The April bond drive at Narberth Public School has exceeded all expectations.

The original quota was $1800, enough to buy two jeeps, but, when this was passed in two weeks, Mr. Brenner pushed the quota to $3600. At the end of four weeks the school lacked only $88 to reach the 5-jeep mark. When some of the faculty learned this they added their bit and boosted the grand total to $4508.30.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

A few years ago a young man was running a curio store in Santa Fe, New Mexico. He sold rugs, odds, jewelry, an assortment of goods and ends. But there was one little thing wrong with the store; it didn't make much profit. The young man's name was Webb Young.

He thought maybe he could ring the cash register oftener if he sold groceries, in addition to curios. He tried, but people refused to buy bacon and corned beef from a curio store. Bewildered, he didn't know what to do.

Finally he decided on two things. First, since he was able to scrape out enough each week to keep the pot boiling, he would continue his store. Second, he would develop a sideline. But what? What could he do in Santa Fe? He did everything the books say; he thought, he investigated, he used his imagination, but found nothing. Then one day a tourist bought a necktie made by the Spanish people and asked to have it mailed to a friend in Chicago.

As Mr. Young was writing down the name and address, an idea hit him; could he sell neckties by mail? His second thought was negative. The idea must be old; so simple. Hundreds must have tried it. Desperate, he decided to try it, anyway. So he made a survey of what he would have to do, and learned that first he would have to raise $500.

He had kept the names and addresses of many of the people he had sold things to over the counter; so he fixed up a small catalog and mailed it to his list. What happened?

The fifth day was brightened by nine orders. Then, suddenly and unaccountably, business began to boom. So he studied the necktie mail order business in earnest. He went to the mountain people who did the ancient weaving and engaged them to make colorful hand-woven ties. Praise their designs, he suggested minor changes.

He employed more Spanish-Americans living in the mountains, who know the art of weaving, to turn out handwoven ties. Business zoomed. By growing a new twist to the old idea of selling ties by mail, he found himself headed toward fortune.

In five years he lifted that $500 investment to where it was a $50,000 a year investment.

His plan was very simple. He had a failing business, but one which turned in a small amount of money. He held on to it while he developed a sideline. The sideline had a new idea.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Saver AND Robin McKown

WHEN Wendell Willkie was in Turkey, on his recent memorable trip around the world, the Axis radio complained of his presence in this neutral country. Mr. Willkie's answer to this was simple. "Invite Hitler," he said, "to send to Turkey, as a representative of Germany, his opposition candidate." Thus, succinctly, he expresses the fundamental difference between our country and the fascist nations.

WENDELL WILKIE

Mr. Willkie tells about his global junker in a new book, "One World," which was promptly selected by the Council on Books in Wartime as their third "Imperative" book recommended to the nation. In this book, Mr. Willkie gives an engrossing account of his meetings with Stalin, Chiang Kai-shek and other United Nations leaders, as well as with the common people of their countries. He reports that a great awakening is going on among the peoples of the world and expresses his deep conviction that the United Nations must learn to work together now, while they fight, if they hope to live together in peace after the war is over.

One chapter in Mr. Willkie's book deals with his visit to the Siberian Republic of Yakutsk. Besides gold, one of the main products of this country is fur. Muratov, President of the Council of People's Commissars, remarked that squirrel pelts were of no value unless the animals had been shot through the eye. When Mr. Willkie expressed a polite skepticism about this, Muratov stood his ground. All Yakutsk hunters, he said, when mobilized into the Red Army, are so good that they are classified automatically as snipers.

All over China, Willkie received a warm welcome, particularly so in Chungking, where the crowd which greeted him exceeded anything he had experienced even during his presidential campaign. At a dinner in Chungking occurred an episode which he remembered later with delight. One of his party had been ill the day before from Chinese food, so for this evening they were served with good old-fashioned vanilla ice cream. He expressed his pleasure to the Mayor, who explained: "In April, the medical authorities had feared that China would be swept by a cholera epidemic, and since cholera was spread by milk they passed a municipal ordinance making it a criminal offense to serve ice cream. But," he added, "yesterday I decided that ice cream is such a delicacy and we are so pleased that Mr. Willkie came to Chungking. I just repealed the ordinance for one day so we could serve you ice cream tonight."

George H. Gilbert, principal of the Senior High School, addressed the team and awarded gold basketballs to the members. He stressed the valuable lesson in working with others which may be gained by team play.

After the band played Rombert's "Stout-hearted Men," Capt. Greer Heindel awarded trophies to John F. Durham and George M. Powell, members of the team, and thanked all those who helped the team to win during the past season.

Edmund Geiges, coach of basketball at Frankford High School and chairman of the Basketball Committee for High Schools, was introduced by E. E. Burlingame. He congratulated the team on its excellent season and referred to Coach Bill Anderson's own fine record while in college.

A Citizens' Committee, represented by Fred Walzer, presented watches and sweaters to team members.

Henry Harman, Commander of Bullock-Sanderson Post of the American Legion, and father of Phil Harman, a member of the team, spoke briefly.

Coach Anderson thanked all those who helped him during the season, including the students, the community and the high school band.

He particularly thanked his two assistants, H. K. Reeves and E. W. White for their work.

The program closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

This year Walzer, along with Duer and Jenkins, will be candidates in the September Republican primary contest.

Of the campaign he intends to wage, Walzer informed a friend: "It will be both a finished fight and a fight to the finish. I never ask for any quarter."

The incumbents have issued no statement. So far, there has been no intimation as to what members of the Narberth Borough Republican organization intends to do.

Meeting to Decide Fate of M. L. League

Possibilities of continuing the Main Line Baseball League will be discussed at a meeting to be held Monday night in the recreation room of the Montgomery Court Apartments, Narberth.

Five of the member teams during the 1942 season have indicated their intentions of continuing. Gladwyne is the only doubtful club.

The teams anxious to play this season are Manoa, Narberth, Brookline, Overbrook and Irvin's Collegians. Charles Harnden, the League secretary, says an industrial firm near Collingdale would like to enter a team.

Whether or not Haws decided to enter the field, Julian Barnard, Norristown, definitely indicated last week he would be a candidate.

Barnard's statement said a more detailed statement could be expected from his office later.

Judge Dannenhower stands for election again this year but there has been no intimation from either organization or independent sources that the Dannenhower and Barnard campaigns are linked together.

Present District Attorney Frederick B. Smillie has not said whether he intends to run again.

I've been looking at a car that wasn't there

I WENT window shopping again yesterday

I stared into a big, empty automobile showroom downtown—and pretty soon I saw a car.

She was kind of different from the bus I'm driving now. She was long, sleek and powerful-looking. The windshield sort of went clear around her, so that everybody inside could see out everywhere. There were no gears to shift. The cooling system was sealed—you never touched it from one year to another.

She had synthetic rubber tires you couldn't puncture—and that wear like iron. And fast? Man! The motor was only half as big as they are today—but how it would take the old girl along! And on one gallon of that new high-octane gas to every three my car uses now.

So—I made up my mind to buy her, then and there. And I will, too. One of these days, after the war's been over for a while, I'll walk in and drive her home. And I'll slap the money for her right down on the counter.

You see, I'm in the Payroll Savings Plan. Been in it ever since it started in my plant. Every single payday, I'm tucking away all I can in War Bonds.

That money's going to come back to me in ten years—and bring more money with it. Four dollars for every three.

I get a real kick out of thinking how that money's piling up for me. Money that's going to let me have some of the things I've always wanted to have—do some of the things I've always wanted to do.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 34 million Americans on plant payrolls, nearly 30 million of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up tomorrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10% of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10% yet—keep trying!)

BUT

America's income this year will be the highest in history: about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That is why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan: He asks us to invest not 10% or 15% or 20% but all we can!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT --- NOW DO YOUR BEST!
